

Meet the ABOT range: two powerful compressors and a high-pressure tank designed to solve common inflation challenges. Traditional foot pumps lack the power to bead tires. Garage compressors are bulky and unsafe. Standard pumps rely on car batteries, creating cable hazards. And achieving high pressures with manual pumps is exhausting.

ABOT's powerful, modular systems make inflation effortless. With intuitive automation, robust construction, and user-friendly controls, ABOT products eliminate hassle—whether you're beading bike tires, prepping for off-road adventures, or topping up your car tires.
